2011 CHIMNEY ROCK IN THE CHACOAN WORLD CONFERENCE

Letter of Invitation

Chimney Rock Interpretive Association (CRIA) in partnership with the USDA Forest Service would like to extend this invitation to join us for the Chimney Rock in the Chacoan World Conference to be held April 29-May 1, 2011 in Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

This conference will discuss the Ancestral Puebloan community of Chimney Rock, Colorado. The conference will feature 20 minute papers regarding archaeological research at Chimney Rock, archaeoastronomy at Chimney Rock, Chacoan Outliers, settlement patterns within the Northern San Juan Basin, management of the Chimney Rock Archaeological Area, and modern Puebloan perspectives on this area.

All individuals interested in presenting papers at this conference are encouraged to submit an abstract. Registration and Presentation Submission Forms can be found on our website www.chimneyrockco.org.

This conference will provide an opportunity for the professional community, site interpreters, and interested public to discuss the significance of the site and work towards new ways to improve our stewardship of this fascinating resource.

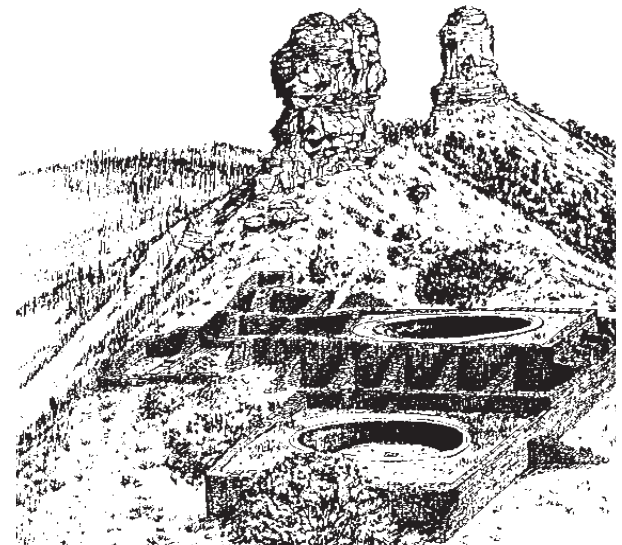

We look forward to seeing you in April.

Call for Papers

Abstracts and Presentation Submission Forms must be received by February 1, 2011. Information should include last name, first name, and institutional affiliation of all authors, title of work, and a 150-word (maximum) abstract. All presenters must be registered and designated on the abstract submission form.

All presentations will be 20 minutes in length. A PowerPoint projector and screen will be provided; all other equipment will be the responsibility of the presenter.

Please refer to our website to download the Presentation Submission Form and Registration Form. Forms may be submitted via email or mail. Abstracts are due by February 1, 2011.
